FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PRO TECH ANNOUNCES RETAILER FOR NOISEBUSTER®

FORT PIERCE, Fla., May 26, 2005 – Pro Tech Communications, Inc. (OTCBB:PCTU) today announced that Stellar Partners, Inc., an airport retailer with 28 locations, will carry Pro Tech’s NoiseBuster® active noise reduction (ANR) audio headphones in news and gift shops at Chicago O’Hare, Washington Dulles, Dallas Fort Worth and Orlando International airports. The product will also be available in the Stellar Duty and Tax Free Shop in Tampa International Airport.

“Stellar is an excellent fit for NoiseBuster distribution because it has the ability to sell our product to customers at the airport, right before they board a plane, said Richard Hennessey, president, Pro Tech. “NoiseBuster is an outstanding air travel product because it reduces airplane engine noise and allows for a more relaxing, less anxious trip. When used with in-flight entertainment, the product provides excellent audio quality. And, considering our very reasonable price point of $69, we believe that the product is a tremendous value. We will work diligently to expand our presence to other Stellar retail locations.”

The NoiseBuster electronically reduces irritating background noise. Ideal for use on airplanes, while exercising, commuting or mowing the lawn, NoiseBuster can be used on its own for simple peace and quiet or in conjunction with a portable audio device for excellent music clarity without overamplification and distortion.

The open-back design of the NoiseBuster NB-FX is comfortable for the wearer and the headband folds for portability. The earcups achieve a good ear seal without covering the ear in unwieldy, and often hot, closed earcups. Included with the headphone are a dual-pronged plug for airline use, a AAA battery and a carry bag.
